INFO

Iñaki Arakistain

Tenor, Soprano, Alt saxophonist - Flutist
Composer - Producer

With five albums of his own on the market, Iñaki has become a musician with a long career, whose prestige has already been recognized both by the specialized press and by the artists with whom he has shared the stage and/or collaborated. Iñaki Arakistain opens us to a musical concept unpublished until now in Spain by a saxophonist, in which Groove music coexists with influences of Brazilian music, Latin Funk, as well as fusing Flamenco with these styles, thus enriching his new projects united by the common language of jazz.

BIOGRAPHY

Iñaki Arakistain

In his jazz career he has played and shared the stage with musicians such as: Jerry González, Danilo Pérez, Sean Levitt, Mark Redford, Jean Marie Ekay, Benny Green, Lewis Nash, Jayme Marques, Miguel Blanco and many more; with Spanish groups such as Calle Caliente, Red House, Wagon Cookin', and leading his own projects and bands. He has played in several Jazz Festivals in Spain, and toured several theaters in Finland with singer Patrica Kraus. He also toured Colombia with singer Paloma San Basilio in 2017.

He has given a jazz and improvisation seminar at the National Music Conservatory of LA PAZ (BOLIVIA), organized by the Embassy of Spain, ending with a concert at the National Theater of LA PAZ, together with the Bolivian musician-drummer Yayo Morales and the musician-arranger Miguel Blanco. He has collaborated in more than 200 albums and has toured and performed concerts with famous Spanish pop artists: Antonio Vega, Miguel Ríos Big Band Orquesta Mondragón, Antonio Carmona (KETAMA), Azúcar Moreno, Tontxu, Tennessee, Raphael apart from collaborating with Miguel Bosé, Ana Torroja (MECANO), Enrique Bunbury (Héroes del Silencio), David Bisbal, Víctor and Ana Belén with whom he also recorded a live DVD album at the Plaza de Toros de las Ventas together with Raphael.

He has toured RAPHAEL (50 Years Later, 2009/10), performing in many countries in the U.S., Latin America and Europe, playing on stages as emblematic as: MADISON SQUARE GARDEN (New York), JAMES L. Knight (Miami), LUNA PARK (Buenos Aires), COLISEO EL CAMPÍN (Mexico DF), VIÑA DEL MAR (Chile), BARVIKHA CONCERT HALL (Moscow). He has worked in several musicals including the musical FOREVER KING OF THE POP (Tribute to Michael Jackson).

SMOOTH HOT JAZZ Festival at the María Guerrero Theater, Madrid with Italian guitarist Roberto Tola Band, and stellar guests such as Paul Taylor and Paula Atherton, American saxophonists of great recognition.

Iñaki Arakistain explains that this new album tries to reflect past experiences and the experiences lived through music, filtering them with this complicated period. "I have tried to make my compositions fundamentally reflect hope and a new "post-pandemic" era.

The Iñaki Arakistain Band quintet is made up of a cast of renowned musicians from the Spanish scene.

Arakistain's band performs a selection of his extensive repertoire and presents 'The Sun Shines Again' his 5th and new Album, Jazz , Groove and Latin Jazz tunes that blend exotic sounds and roots as deep as Flamenco Fusion and Afro-American music such as Jazz Funk.

Elegantly constructed harmonies, fresh and deep sounds, solid beats and rhythms that travel in this musical universe called Arakistain.
